International Students/Faculty welcome dinner. Tuesday October 13 at RAH.

We had a full house of students and faculty from various parts of the world.
Each one shared about their first impressions of Mills and being in the US.
We honored several students and faculty for their contributions to making the annual dinner a successful event.

Thanks to a great collaboration between the Foreign student advisors, international faculty and the ASRCommittee members. It was a celebratory and memorable event for students and faculty.
Total cost of food: $270
Funds contributed from College: $250
Cost to ASR/AAMC $20

Winter Celebration for graduating students. Friday December 4 at RAH.

Many thanks to the AR staff Nikole Adams and Chelsea Ekholm, the ASR Committee and Pierre Loving (BOG) for creating a wonderful event for our graduating students.
29 graduating students signed up and we had a total of 101 RSVP's, though only about 65 actually attended.
Everyone felt welcomed and the event was made special by the presence of President Decoudreaux, several members from the college board of Trustees, Board of Governors , College officers and Cabinet members along with the and guests of the students.
Everyone enjoyed the reception following the celebration and there was plenty of food and champagne for everyone.

Cost:$840, of which amount AAMC paid $420.

The final event of the year is the finals snacks on Friday, December 11..

I close the year with profound appreciation for a great committee that works creatively and collaboratively with the BOG, AR staff, Faculty and AAMC staff (thanks Lesli) serving with so much enthusiasm and giving sacrificially to make every event a special occasion for our students and faculty.
